

ZACHARY'S TEASING CURVES BEAT THE GIANTS

SENATORS WIN 6TH AND BEST PLAYED GAME

36,000 FANS RAVE AS THE SENATORS WIN, 2 TO 1

NEHF DID NOT PITCH AS WELL AS HE USUALLY DOES

By HENRY L. FARRELL
Griffith Stadium, Washington, Oct. 9.—Behind the teasing curves of Tom Zachary, the stout hearted Washington Senators squared the world series with the New York Giants at three-all here this afternoon, winning the sixth and best-played game of the series by a score of 2 to 1 before 36,000 raving fans.

Young Bucky Harris, Washington manager, won the game with a good-old-fashioned punch off Art Nehf in the fifth inning. Roger Peckinpaugh, star Washington shortstop, who returned after two days' absence from the lineup, started the inning with the second single of the day. Ruel sacrificed him to second and he reached third on Zachary's infield out. Nehf held the Senators to two hits in four innings, but he weakened at this point and passed young Earl McNeely. McNeely stole second. Harris hit over second for a long single and Peckinpaugh and McNeely scored with the only two runs of the game.

The Giants scored their first and only run before the left-handed Zachary had got his arm in good order. Frisch doubled after Lindstrom had been retired. Young hit to Zachary who made a smart play and got the fleet-footed Frisch between second and third. Young went to second on the run-down and sprinted home on Kelly's single.

From then on Zachary was almost invincible. The Giants started a rally in the fourth inning but it was nipped by a fast double play. Zachary had the Giants swinging futilely and wildly on wide, sweeping curves and a tantalizing slow ball.

Art Nehf was relieved for a pinch hitter in the eighth and he held the Senators to four hits, but two of them came in a pinch and blew up his ball game. The Giant southpaw who won the first game of the series did not pitch as well as the former game would indicate.

The clubs remain here for the seventh game which will decide the championship. Seats were placed on sale an hour after the game and the ticket office was almost pushed over before a list had been made by a huge crowd.

No one was willing to venture predictions on tomorrow's pitchers. Curly Ogden is the only first string pitcher Washington has not used in the series and McGraw's handling of pitchers in the ball pen indicates that he might ask Hugh McQuillan to start the game.

CLOUDLESS SKY, BRILLIANT SUN

Washington, Oct. 9.—A cloudless sky and a brilliant sun promised a perfect setting for the sixth world series' game here today.

SENATORS FIGHT AGAINST FORBORN HOPE

Griffith Stadium, Washington, Oct. 9.—Fighting against a forlorn hope as only a game and stout-hearted club could, the Washington Senators lined up here this afternoon for a dying stand against the New York Giants in the sixth game of the world's series.

With the score 3 to 2 against them in games, the American league champions had to win the game or lose the chance to give the national capital its first world's championship. Victory today meant a squared series with the championship hanging on the seventh game tomorrow.

Weather conditions could not have been better. The sky was clear and the stadium was flooded with the

FOLLOWS LABOR GOVERNMENT'S RECENT DEFEAT

FOLLOWED LIBERAL PROPOSAL REGARDING COMMUNIST EDITOR

VOTE ON INVESTIGATING DROPPING PROCEEDINGS AGAINST EDITOR 364 TO 198

(By United Press)
London, Oct. 9.—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald today requested King George to dissolve Parliament. The premier made known his request when he returned to 10 Downing Street after a 45-minute conference with the king at Buckingham Palace, following the labor government's defeat in the House of Commons last night on a liberal proposal that a committee be appointed to investigate the dropping of the proceedings against a communist editor who had been charged with sedition.

The vote was 364 to 198, the conservatives solidly backing the proposal. The election probably will be set for November 8 as there is little likelihood the king will refuse to grant dissolution. The labor cabinet, the first to hold office in England, is not expected to resign until the nation has stated its judgment at the polls and then only after the vote is against the party. When the House of Commons reconvenes at 3 p. m. it is believed MacDonald will have gained the King's assent.

The adverse vote last night was the fifteenth incurred by the laborites in nine months in office. Political observers generally believe the conservatives will make gains in the election, the laborites holding their own and the liberals losing. The present lineup is conservative, 257; laborites, 193, and liberals 158. It is almost certain that the conservatives will remain the strongest party numerically and it is likely that ex-Premier Baldwin will be returned to the head of the next cabinet.

Royal assent is expected to be given the Irish Bill which enters the committee stage in the House of Lords this afternoon and night will find politicians dashing to their constituencies to open election campaigns.

Most of the morning newspapers express regret at the necessity of an election. The Daily Herald, labor organ, publishes a cartoon of laborite with his sleeves rolled up, saying, "Now for the Fight."

London, Oct. 9.—The general election for a new parliament probably will be held October 29, the Central News political correspondent understands.

MAC DONALD TAKES CASE TO THE COUNTRY

London, Oct. 9.—Prime Minister MacDonald today took his case to the country, appealing to the House of Commons. Following defeat of his labor government, the prime minister announced the general election will be held October 29.

The prime minister spent the morning in conference with political advisors and was reported to have told the labor group he was arranging to prorogue the Parliament this evening, after which the party election manifesto would be issued.

"We will take this case to the people and they will sustain us," MacDonald said, referring to the defeat of the government when the House adopted the liberal amendment to the vote of censure last night.

The galleries were crowded as Commons was called to order at 3:20 p. m. The labor members cheered loudly as MacDonald entered and took his seat. The prime minister looked tired after last night's trying session, but his fighting jaw was set as he arose (Continued on page 4)

BRAINERD MAN IS KILLED IN ACCIDENT AT HIBBING MINE

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 9.—In the first fatal accident this year in a range property of the Pickands-Mather company, Dewey Hillman, 26 and single, lost his life at the Scranton mine this morning.

Engaged about a steam shovel, Hillman was struck on the head by the dipper stick of the shovel and his skull fractured. He died on his way to a hospital. He had been working here about six months and had been living with his sister, Mrs. Robert Sutton, of this city.

The body will be forwarded to Brainerd, near which city the parents of the dead man reside on a farm.

GOOD DEMANDS INVESTIGATION OF CHARGE MADE

WANTS LA FOLLETTE ON WITNESS STAND TO TELL WHAT HE KNOWS

REGARDING ASSERTIONS OF A REPUBLICAN "SLUSH FUND"

(By United Press)
Washington, Oct. 9.—Demand that Senator Borah immediately call his committee into session and put Senator LaFollette on the witness stand "to tell all he knows" of the republican campaign "slush fund" was made today after a conference with President Coolidge by James Good, former member of congress from Iowa and manager of republican headquarters during the pre-convention campaign.

"Senator Borah should call LaFollette before the committee and ask him to make a statement of his charges under oath.

"If it is shown that he knows nothing, he should be branded as the courts brand a man who makes reckless and false charges."

well-known and advertised southern sunshine. The Giants were given a generous hand when they strolled on the field and again when they went out for batting practice, a greater measure of tribute than they had received at home, but it seemed to have no surface effect on them.

The stands and bleachers were filled almost to the last seat.

The president and his party arrived five minutes before game time. Crowded stands and bleachers arose and uncovered and the band played the Star Spangled Banner. The players grouped on the field in front of the presidential box. The park was jammed to the last seat and house tops outside the wall were crowded.

Peck, injured Washington shortstop, was given a great demonstration when he went to his position. The field was cleared by the umpires and the three lead-off Giants crouched near the plate.

The batteries were announced as New York, Nehf and Gowdy; Washington, Zachary and Ruel. The game started at 2:03 p. m.

RACIAL RIOT THREATENS AFTER KILLING OF NEGRO

SCORES OF POLICEMEN PATROL MAXWELL STREET DISTRICT IN CHICAGO

VICTIM CHARGED WITH ACCOSTING TWO WHITE GIRLS

(By United Press)
Chicago, Oct. 9.—Scores of policemen today patrolled the Maxwell Street district to prevent possible racial rioting following the killing of a negro last night by a mob of whites.

William Bell, 33, the victim, accosted two white girls and attempted to drag one into an alley, according to the story told police who were attracted to the scene by the mob. Bell was punched and smashed on the head with a baseball bat. He died on the way to a hospital.

More than 200 persons were in the mob milling about the negro. Police reserves from the Maxwell street station and other stations were called and the crowd only dispersed after being charged and hammered with clubs. Twenty arrests were made but only two are in custody. Miss Betty Greenblatt, 21, and Miss Bertha Deutsch, 20, told police they were accosted by Bell, who, after making insulting remarks, seized the former by the arm. Miss Greenblatt said Bell started to drag her across the street when several men ran to her rescue.

Bell tried to escape but was overtaken and engulfed by the mob that poured from shops and homes.

Kansas Gagged by Klan, Says Editor White

Atchison, Kan., Oct. 9.—One of the ambitions of William Allen White, independent candidate for governor of Kansas, was to have inscribed on his tombstone "here lies a man who had sense enough not to run for office," he told an audience here last night.

"But here I am. I am out because the K. K. K. has put a gag on my party," the editor added.

"The klan picked Ben Paulen (his Republican opponent) in some inscrutable way with the help of a bunch of wizards and geni and goblins and lizards and the whole nightmare menageries of the K. K. K. out in the southwest corner of a cow pasture at a doleful hour of a dismal day of a sorrowful year."

HOHENZOLLERNS WANT A LOT OF MONEY FROM REICH

HOUSE, INCLUDING 40 MEMBERS, NEEDS BIG YEARLY INCOME

SAYS 1,125,000 MARKS REQUIRED TO KEEP WOLF FROM DOOR

(By United Press)
Berlin, Oct. 9.—Prussian Finance Minister von Richter is nettled with the business methods of former Kaiser Wilhelm II.

He has discovered that the Kaiser is insatiable in his demands upon the German republic, in connection with the settlement of his estates in Prussia.

Von Richter claims that in the course of negotiations covering five years the Kaiser has raised the ante on the Prussian government. The Kaiser's representatives, Excellenz von Berg, says the Hohenzollern house, including 40 members, needs 1,125,000 marks yearly income to keep the wolf from the door.

Von Richter responds that he in no wise desires to put the former Lord of Prussia on starvation rations, but he estimates that 115,000 acres of valuable farm and forest land in Germany, plus a few castles, running into millions of marks in value, will yield several times the minimum requirements set by the Kaiser.

On the other hand, von Berg reached the conclusion that the Kaiser needed at least 400,000 acres and that the settlement proffered by the Prussian state would bring the royal family not over 1,000,000 marks a year.

All of which led von Richter somewhat testily to announce that he thought it just as well to have a showdown in the courts with the Hohenzollern house. Whether this showdown will come is uncertain.

The Kaiser's supporters hope von Richter makes good his threat, saying that the republic is destined to lose if the old time judges have a crack at the case.

Meantime, the socialists are crying that it is high time for Prussia to put an end to the "scandal" connected with trying to reach a settlement with the Kaiser's family.

Workmen existing on a small wage, or perhaps eking out a meagre existence with unemployment doles, say that there is nothing to prevent the Kaiser's sons from going to work. They are all able-bodied. As for the Kaiser himself, they are willing he should have some of his private property back, but deem it rather absurd that there should be an argument for five years as to his "rights," after his vandy brought a catastrophe to Germany and after he had fled in terror to Holland.

The row over the separation of state and private property of the Hohenzollern line has been going on ever since the so-called revolution of 1918. At that time the revolutionists issued confiscation orders covering the royal property really belonging to the state. Subsequently confiscation orders were laid upon the entire Hohenzollern holdings, whether private or state, and a state administration was placed over the property. The revolutionists, however, did not do their job thoroughly. The administration was solely a trusteeship with the whole question of who belonged to what was left open for later decision.

It has been frequently said that if the German revolution had been a real one, it would have been quickly decided what, if anything, should be left over to the royal family.

VICIOUS DOG FOUND GUARDING ELECTRIC STILLS NEAR ST. PAUL

St. Paul, Oct. 9.—A distillery which federal agents declare has been producing 200 gallons of moonshine daily, was raided yesterday.

The proprietor of the place, Fred Thomas, was taken to the Ramsey county jail and charges of manufacturing liquor are to be filed against him.

The agents found two large stills on his farm at the intersection of the Mendota and Lilydale roads. The stills were in the loft of a large barn and were run by electricity.

Guarding the door of the barn was a vicious dog chained to a rope which was stretched across the front of the barn. The agents destroyed 2,000 gallons of mash and 110 gallons of moonshine.

LABOR LEADER IS INDICTED ON FOUR CHARGES BLACKMAIL

JOHN McNAMARA IS CHARGED WITH THREATENING INDIANAPOLIS CONTRACTOR

LATTER DIDN'T USE IRON WORKERS IN METAL WINDOW FRAMES

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Oct. 9.—John McNamara, leader in the labor war culminating in the bombing of the Los Angeles Times and a dozen other dynamite outrages 14 years ago today was indicted by the Marion county grand jury on four charges of blackmail.

The charges grew out of McNamara's activities as business agent and secretary of the local Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' union subsequent to his release from the penitentiary at San Quentin, Calif.

McNamara, according to the indictment, threatened Fred Jungelaus, contractor for the new Elks building here, in an effort to force him to use iron workers in installing window frames in the building.

Five weeks after the alleged attempted blackmail, vandals entered the building and did $10,000 damage to window frames and doors which had been installed by members of the carpenters' union.

SENATOR PEPPER SILENT ON PRESENT BASEBALL WAR

St. Paul, Oct. 9.—Sen. George W. Pepper, Philadelphia, left St. Paul last night with the regret of being unable to attend the Baltimore-St. Paul series.

Senator Pepper is one of the baseball leaders in America. While practicing law in Philadelphia he represented organized baseball in its trouble with the old Federal league.

He also drew up the agreement between Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis and the American and National league heads.

He refused to comment on the present trouble between Landis and Johnson. However, he showed a copy of the agreement in which the major league heads agree to abide by Landis' decision. The agreement was signed in Chicago Jan. 12, 1921.

Sen. Pepper also is the author of the foreword in the professional baseball book. He has titled it "Play Hard, Play Fair, Play for the team."

2,056 STUDENTS IN CITY SCHOOLS

Report so Made by Supt. W. C. Cobb
at School Board
Meeting

HIGH SCHOOL HAS 433

Harrison 358, Lowell 440, Lincoln
321, Washington Grades 147,
Whittier 220

There were 2,056 students enrolled in the Brainerd public schools at the close of the first school month, September 26th, according to the report made by Superintendent W. C. Cobb to the board of education at its Monday evening's meeting.

This enrollment is distributed throughout the various schools of the city as follows: High school, 433; Lowell, 440; Harrison, 358; Lincoln, 321; Washington grades, 147; Whittier, 220; Riverside, 65; Garfield, 56; normal training, 16.

Of the 147 pupils reported as grade pupils in the Washington building, fifty are taking full four high school subjects, and 27 additional pupils are taking three high school subjects, so that the total number of pupils doing regular high school work under high school teachers, would be in excess of 500.

Superintendent Cobb's report continues: During the month, two state inspectors have visited the high school and spent the better part of a school day inspecting the schools and interviewing teachers or principal. D. M. Schweickhard, state inspector of industrial education, inspected the manual training department, and expressed himself as very well satisfied with what he found being done in that department, woodwork and mechanical drawing. He reported that he believed Mr. Rosel to be doing good work.

E. W. Everts, director of physical and health education, spent an entire day in the schools, visited the gymnasium classes for both boys and girls, also the playgrounds at the Lowell and Harrison during the recess period, and met with all the teachers at a general teachers' meeting for general instruction. Mr. Everts reported that he was well satisfied with the manner in which the health and physical training work was being started in Brainerd.

The same demand that existed last year for night school classes for foreigners, in preparation for citizenship and to learn the English language, prevails at the present time, and it was recommended by the superintendent that the teachers' committee of the board and the superintendent be authorized to start such classes under conditions similar to last year, whenever it seems practicable.

Miss Esther Lemmon, assistant to Miss Williams at the Lowell school, was compelled on account of ill health, to relinquish her work and her place was filled by Miss Edna Anderson at the same salary received by Miss Lemmon. At the Harrison school, the eighth grade position temporarily vacant during Miss Canniff's absence, has been filled by the employment of Miss Myrtle Hintze, for a term to correspond to the date of the return of Miss Canniff.

Twenty new teachers have been employed since the close of school last year, the total number of teachers in both grades and high school remaining the same as last year.

During the last few days an opportunity offered to have worn text books partially rebound by experts at a cost of 17c per book and the superintendent and secretary of the board, after consultation, took it upon themselves to have worn text books at the high school repaired and get further instructions from the board as to grade books at the several buildings.

7,340 Cars of Grain Inspected

Willmar, Minn., Oct. 9.—All records of grain inspection in the railway yards here were broken in September. A total of 7,340 cars of grain were sampled here during the month. In the corresponding month a year ago, only 4,774 cars were inspected. The record that has stood for some years was made in December, 1915, when 7,275 cars of grain were sampled.

Goodhue Pastor Called to New Ulm

New Ulm, Minn., Oct. 9.—The congregation of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church of this city has extended a call to Rev. Gerhard Hinzenhuth of Goodhue, Minn., to become pastor of the church, succeeding the late Rev. C. J. Albrecht. A previous call had been extended to Rev. William F. Sauer of Watertown, S. D., whose congregation declined to release him.

Boy Accidentally Shot

Eau Claire, Wis., Oct. 9.—Elmer Geer, 16-year-old Cornell boy, was accidentally shot in the back by a companion while hunting near Cornell. Roy Gutsloff, who held the gun, assisted in carrying Geer half a mile to where a car could be secured to take him to the hospital.

Ban on Liquor Prescriptions

Sparta, Wis., Oct. 9.—The Sparta city council is engaged in an effort to prevent sale of liquor in the city on physicians' prescriptions. The council passed an ordinance to make it unlawful to sell, serve, or give away any intoxicating liquor by a vote of six to one. The ordinance states that it will be considered unlawful to fill prescriptions calling for intoxicating liquors.

Flax Mill in Operation

Red Lake Falls, Minn., Oct. 9.—The flax mill of the Fibre Products Co. has started the season's operations. P. S. Hillebow, secretary and manager of the company, states that $5 a ton is being paid for clean dry flax straw unbaled.

LEGIONNAIRES TAKE INTEREST IN BOYS

Sydney Carl Hanson Post of American Legion to Take Over Boy Scout Troop No. 2

TROOP COMMITTEE NAMED

Post Favors a Memorial Border of Trees in Gregory Park

The Sydney Carl Hanson post of the American Legion met on Monday evening at Elks hall. The post voted to take over the Boy Scout troop No. 2, and appointed the following troop committee to have charge of this troop: Earl O'Brien, A. C. Mraz, Emil Lunde and Arthur Hagberg. Troop No. 2 has for the past year been meeting at the High school building on Thursday evenings. Axel Anderson is scout master.

The Legion named a committee to work with the Brainerd park board on the matter of a proposed memorial border of trees which it is hoped will be placed around Gregory park. More will be given out for publication when this committee has met with the park board.

A committee was authorized to work out a suitable program for Armistice day, November 11th, and another for the purpose of staging a Legion dance on the same night.

Aitkin and Crow Wing counties will hold an American Legion rally at Crosby on the evening of October 15th. This will be in the form of a banquet at the Spaulding hotel, beginning at seven o'clock. There will be music and appropriate addresses. It is hoped that all Legionnaires will make a special effort to attend this rally. All who intend to be present are asked to so advise the local adjutant in plenty of time before the 15th.

The state organization of the Legion has made arrangements to take a block of seats at the new university stadium for the Minnesota-Michigan game on November 1st, for the use of all Legionnaires. This game will be followed by a big Legion banquet in the evening at the New Nicolet hotel. State and national officials of the Legion are on the program, and all Legionnaires are invited to be present, at the banquet as well as at the football game.

The local post of the Legion is planning to take orders for flags to be furnished citizens in the residence district of the city, similar to those that have already been installed in the business district. Thirty-five such flags have already been taken by local people in the residence section, and it is hoped that many more will take advantage of this opportunity and place their orders.

The flags are furnished by the Legion at exact cost, which includes the installment of metal sockets, either in the cement curb or sidewalk in front of the residence, and it is planned to have the city in a position to have all of these flags on display throughout both the business and residence districts on Armistice day.

Those who have not already ordered their flags, for either the business place or residence, are asked to do so before the end of this week, so that the flags may be secured before Armistice day. Orders should be telephoned to A. A. Englund at once.

AT MOSS POND

In the deep woods was a pond. It was surrounded by moss and moss Pond was its name.

A Funny One Peter Gnome Had Made.

"Let us ask everyone to join us," said the Queen of the Fairies.

So the Breeze Brothers, those good little messengers for the Fairyland people, took around the invitations and asked everyone to come that very afternoon.

They invited Effie Elf and all of the Elves.

They invited Billie Brownie and his brother Bennie Brownie and all of the other Brownies, too.

Of course, Old Mr. Giant was invited and Witty Witch was invited, too.

The members of the Bogey family and Ollie Oaf and his family were all invited.

Peter Gnome and his family were invited and word was sent to the Pond Fairy to try to get back on time. She had been off calling on some friends of hers near a pond some distance away.

She came back in time for the party and all the other guests arrived on time.

Oh, how deliciously the water did feel on that hot summer afternoon and how pleasant the moss was, and how nice the cool, soft bottom of the pond felt where there was nice, mossy, soft ground and pleasant strokes, too.

Everyone did fancy strokes and played and laughed and blew bubbles.

At times the whole pond seemed to be one mass of bubbles and as they blew bubbles they sang this song:

Blowing bubbles is such fun,
Just take a look at this fine one!

Then they pointed to a beautiful one the Fairy Queen had just made.

Blowing bubbles takes some skill,
They often turn out as they will.

Then they looked at a funny one Peter Gnome had made.

Blowing bubbles with Fairyland soap
Gives us all a great deal of hope.

And it did seem, just then, as though all the bubbles were really quite perfect.

Blowing bubbles we all adore,
Bubbles you can't buy at a store.

"No," said Billie Brownie. "Everyone must blow their bubbles, some with ordinary soap, but we blow with Fairyland soap, which only the Queen of the Fairies has."

Blowing bubbles is fine and gay,
It is a glorious game to play.

The bubbles were all becoming better all the time.

Blowing bubbles is simply great,
We blow them at a good old rate.

They were blowing them

Blowing bubbles gives appetite
When we see the food in sight.

For at that moment the Fairy Queen, who had hurried away for a few moments, was seen carrying a splendid tray filled with woodland supper food, and behind her were many other little Fairies carrying trays.

So they stopped swarming and playing and blowing bubbles and sat around the end of the pond, with their feet dangling in the water, and ate of the delicious Fairyland repast.

A Milkmaid's Name

The new baby had not yet been christened.

"I wish you'd call her Serchie, mamma," said little Elsie.

"Serchie? I never heard of any such name, dear," said her mother.

"Why, mamma, surely you haven't forgotten the song: 'I'm Going A-Milk-ing, Serchie Said!'"

Bobbie's Interpretation

Little Bobbie's mother, who was very fond of singing "God Save the Queen," was horrified one day to hear the little fellow shouting, "God save the milk!" and took him to task about it.

"Well, mamma," said Bobbie, "you are always singing 'God save the cream,' and if he doesn't save the milk first there won't be any cream!"

AMUSEMENTS

Alice Lake and Milton Sills in "Environment"

This big Principal Picture, offering a crook melodrama, features two prominent players in Alice Lake and Milton Sills. Anyone who likes a photoplay packed with thrilling action, with a story that is moving from the first scene to the final fade-out, and who would like to see Miss Lake and Mr. Sills heading a wonderful cast in parts that suit them to perfection, will do well to go to the Lyceum Theatre tonight or Friday and see "Environment."

"Environment" is one of those fascinating crook stories which is peculiarly suited for picturization and Irving Cummings has made a photoplay that will entrance and charm picture fans the world over.

A "Gang" comedy and the Pathe Review are on the same program.

Huntly Gordon Quits as Broker to be an Actor

Huntly Gordon who plays the leading role in the Reginald Barker production of "Pleasure Mad," a Metro picture showing at the New Park tonight and Friday, is one of those actors who had to overcome a fear that acting wasn't "respectable" before he was able to go on the stage.

Backed by inherited prejudice he fought against the lure of the theatre for years, while he worked in the Bank of Montreal and later while he started out to be a stock broker. He was living up to the family tradition and felt quite respectable—but terribly unhappy. His heart was behind the footlights and his heart won.

"Respectability be damned!" he cried one day. "I'll be a stock actor, and not a stock broker."

HOW GREAT MEN MAKE LOVE

AS REVEALED BY THEIR LOVE LETTERS

By JOSEPH KAYE

(© by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

WILLIAM LLOYD GARRISON AND HELEN BENSON

THE ideal wife for Garrison, the American reformer, is stated by him as follows, in a letter to his brother on the first anniversary of his marriage to Helen Benson:

"I did not marry her expecting that she would assume a prominent station in the anti-slavery cause, but for domestic quietude and happiness. So completely absorbed am I in that cause that it was undoubtedly wise in me to select as a partner one who, while her benevolent feelings were in unison with mine, was less immediately and entirely connected with it—she is one who prefers to toil unseen—to give by stealth and to sacrifice in seclusion. By her unwearied attention to my wants, her sympathetic regards, her perfect equanimity of mind and her sweet and endearing manners, she is no trifling support to abolitionism, inasmuch as she lightens my labors and enables me to find exquisite delight in the family circle, an offset to public adversity."

Garrison's letters to his wife, therefore, are not of the kind that scorch the paper with their intensity. Before their marriage, he writes, "Hitherto, having none to care or provide for but myself, I have felt contented in merely getting my daily bread. But duty to myself and to you requires that I should make such arrangements with 'The Liberator' as shall afford me, if moderate, at least a sure income. . . . This salary ought to be no less than one thousand dollars a year, for any editorial abilities will readily command more than that sum if devoted to politics or literature. Still, I shall be satisfied with $800 for the present."

Another of the Garrison love letters begins as follows:

"Yesterday (Sabbath) forenoon I concluded not to go to church, because, to confess the truth, I had not replaced my torn pantaloons, and as the weather was too warm to justify the wearing of a cloak. . . ."

2,056 STUDENTS IN CITY SCHOOLS

Report so Made by Supt. W. C. Cobb
at School Board
Meeting

HIGH SCHOOL HAS 433

Harrison 358, Lowell 440, Lincoln
321, Washington Grades 147,
Whittier 220

There were 2,056 students enrolled in the Brainerd public schools at the close of the first school month, September 26th, according to the report made by Superintendent W. C. Cobb to the board of education at its Monday evening's meeting.

This enrollment is distributed throughout the various schools of the city as follows: High school, 433; Lowell, 440; Harrison, 358; Lincoln, 321; Washington grades, 147; Whittier, 220; Riverside, 65; Garfield, 56; normal training, 16.

Of the 147 pupils reported as grade pupils in the Washington building, fifty are taking full four high school subjects, and 27 additional pupils are taking three high school subjects, so that the total number of pupils doing regular high school work under high school teachers, would be in excess of 500.

Superintendent Cobb's report continues: During the month, two state inspectors have visited the high school and spent the better part of a school day inspecting the schools and interviewing teachers or principal. D. M. Schweickhard, state inspector of industrial education, inspected the manual training department, and expressed himself as very well satisfied with what he found being done in that department, woodwork and mechanical drawing. He reported that he believed Mr. Rosel to be doing good work.

E. W. Everts, director of physical and health education, spent an entire day in the schools, visited the gymnasium classes for both boys and girls, also the playgrounds at the Lowell and Harrison during the recess period, and met with all the teachers at a general teachers' meeting for general instruction. Mr. Everts reported that he was well satisfied with the manner in which the health and physical training work was being started in Brainerd.

The same demand that existed last year for night school classes for foreigners, in preparation for citizenship and to learn the English language, prevails at the present time, and it was recommended by the superintendent that the teachers' committee of the board and the superintendent be authorized to start such classes under conditions similar to last year, whenever it seems practicable.

Miss Esther Lemmon, assistant to Miss Williams at the Lowell school, was compelled on account of ill health, to relinquish her work and her place was filled by Miss Edna Anderson at the same salary received by Miss Lemmon. At the Harrison school, the eighth grade position temporarily vacant during Miss Canniff's absence, has been filled by the employment of Miss Myrtle Hintze, for a term to correspond to the date of the return of Miss Canniff.

Twenty new teachers have been employed since the close of school last year, the total number of teachers in both grades and high school remaining the same as last year.

During the last few days an opportunity offered to have worn text books partially rebound by experts at a cost of 17c per book and the superintendent and secretary of the board, after consultation, took it upon themselves to have worn text books at the high school repaired and get further instructions from the board as to grade books at the several buildings.

7,340 Cars of Grain Inspected

Willmar, Minn., Oct. 9.—All records of grain inspection in the railway yards here were broken in September. A total of 7,340 cars of grain were sampled here during the month. In the corresponding month a year ago, only 4,774 cars were inspected. The record that has stood for some years was made in December, 1915, when 7,275 cars of grain were sampled.

Goodhue Pastor Called to New Ulm

New Ulm, Minn., Oct. 9.—The congregation of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church of this city has extended a call to Rev. Gerhard Hinzenhal of Goodhue, Minn., to become pastor of the church, succeeding the late Rev. C. J. Albrecht. A previous call had been extended to Rev. William F. Sauer of Watertown, S. D., whose congregation declined to release him.

Boy Accidentally Shot

Eau Claire, Wis., Oct. 9.—Elmer Geer, 16-year-old Cornell boy, was accidentally shot in the back by a companion while hunting near Cornell. Roy Gutsloff, who held the gun, assisted in carrying Geer half a mile to where a car could be secured to take him to the hospital.

Ban on Liquor Prescriptions

Sparta, Wis., Oct. 9.—The Sparta city council is engaged in an effort to prevent sale of liquor in the city on physicians' prescriptions. The council passed an ordinance to make it unlawful to sell, serve, or give away any intoxicating liquor by a vote of six to one. The ordinance states that it will be considered unlawful to fill prescriptions calling for intoxicating liquors.

Flax Mill in Operation

LEGIONNAIRES TAKE INTEREST IN BOYS

Sydney Carl Hanson Post of American Legion to Take Over Boy Scout Troop No. 2

TROOP COMMITTEE NAMED

Post Favors a Memorial Border of Trees in Gregory Park

The Sydney Carl Hanson post of the American Legion met on Monday evening at Elks hall. The post voted to take over the Boy Scout troop No. 2, and appointed the following troop committee to have charge of this troop: Earl O'Brien, A. C. Mraz, Emil Lunde and Arthur Hagberg. Troop No. 2 has for the past year been meeting at the High school building on Thursday evenings. Axel Anderson is scout master.

The Legion named a committee to work with the Brainerd park board on the matter of a proposed memorial border of trees which it is hoped will be placed around Gregory park. More will be given out for publication when this committee has met with the park board.

A committee was authorized to work out a suitable program for Armistice day, November 11th, and another for the purpose of staging a Legion dance on the same night. Aitkin and Crow Wing counties will hold an American Legion rally at Crosby on the evening of October 15th. This will be in the form of a banquet at the Spaulding hotel, beginning at seven o'clock. There will be music and appropriate addresses. It is hoped that all Legionnaires will make a special effort to attend this rally. All who intend to be present are asked to so advise the local adjutant in plenty of time before the 15th.

The state organization of the Legion has made arrangements to take a block of seats at the new university stadium for the Minnesota-Michigan game on November 1st, for the use of all Legionnaires. This game will be followed by a big Legion banquet in the evening at the New Nicolet hotel. State and national officials of the Legion are on the program, and all Legionnaires are invited to be present, at the banquet as well as at the football game.

The local post of the Legion is planning to take orders for flags to be furnished citizens in the residence district of the city, similar to those that have already been installed in the business district. Thirty-five such flags have already been taken by local people in the residence section, and it is hoped that many more will take advantage of this opportunity and place their orders.

The flags are furnished by the Legion at exact cost, which includes the installment of metal sockets, either in the cement curb or sidewalk in front of the residence, and it is planned to have the city in a position to have all of these flags on display throughout both the business and residence districts on Armistice day.

Those who have not already ordered their flags, for either the business place or residence, are asked to do so before the end of this week, so that the flags may be secured before Armistice day. Orders should be telephoned to A. A. Englund at once.

AT MOSS POND

In the deep woods was a pond. It was surrounded by moss and Moss Pond was its name.

"Let us have a swimming party," said the Queen of the Fairies.

"Oh, let us have a swimming party," said Fairy Princess Joy.

"Yes, let us have a swimming party," said Fairy Princess Twilight-Bell.

"That would be such fun," said Fairy Ybab.

"Oh, yes," said Fairy Wondrous Secrets.

"Let us ask everyone to join us," said the Queen of the Fairies.

So the Breeze Brothers, those good little messengers for the Fairyland people, took around the invitations and asked everyone to come that very afternoon.

They invited Etie Elf and all of the Elves.

They invited Billie Brownie and his brother Bennie Brownie and all of the other Brownies, too.

Of course, Old Mr. Giant was invited and Witty Witch was invited, too.

The members of the Bogey family and Ollie Oaf and his family were all invited.

Peter Gnome and his family were invited and word was sent to the Pond Fairy to try to get back on time.

She had been off calling on some friends of hers near a pond some distance away.

She came back in time for the party and all the other guests arrived on time.

Oh, how deliciously the water did feel on that hot summer afternoon and how pleasant the moss was, and how nice the cool, soft bottom of the pond felt where there was nice, mossy, soft ground and pleasant weeds, too.

Everyone did fancy strokes and played and laughed and blew bubbles. At times the whole pond seemed to be one mass of bubbles and as they blew bubbles they sang this song:

Blowing bubbles is such fun,
Just take a look at this fine one!

Then they pointed to a beautiful one the Fairy Queen had just made.

Blowing bubbles takes some skill.
They often turn out as they will.

Then they looked at a funny one Peter Gnome had made.

Blowing bubbles with Fairyland soap gives us all a great deal of hope.

And it did seem, just then, as though all the bubbles were really quite perfect.

Blowing bubbles we all adore,
Bubbles you can't buy at a store.

"No," said Billie Brownie. "Everyone must blow their bubbles, some with ordinary soap, but we blow with Fairyland soap, which only the Queen of the Fairies has."

Blowing bubbles is fine and gay,
It is a glorious game to play.

The bubbles were all becoming better all the time.

Blowing bubbles is simply great,
We blow them at a good old rate.

They were blowing them

Blowing bubbles gives appetite
When we see the food in sight.

For at that moment the Fairy Queen, who had hurried away for a few moments, was seen carrying a splendid tray filled with woodland supper food, and behind her were many other little Fairies carrying trays.

So they stopped swimming and playing and blowing bubbles and sat around the end of the pond, with their feet dangling in the water, and ate of the delicious Fairyland repast.

A Milkmaid's Name

The new baby had not yet been christened.

"I wish you'd call her Serchie, mamma," said little Elsie.

"Serchie? I never heard of any such name, dear," said her mother.

"Why, mamma, surely you haven't forgotten the song: 'I'm Going A-Milking, Serchie Said?'"

Bobbie's Interpretation

Little Bobbie's mother, who was very fond of singing "God Save the Queen," was horrified one day to hear the little fellow shouting, "God save the milk!" and took him to task about it.

"Well, mamma," said Bobbie, "you are always singing 'God save the cream,' and if he doesn't save the milk first there won't be any cream!"

AMUSEMENTS

Alice Lake and Milton Sills in "Environment"

This big Principal Picture, offering a crook melodrama, features two prominent players in Alice Lake and Milton Sills. Anyone who likes a photoplay packed with thrilling action, with a story that is moving from the first scene to the final fade-out, and who would like to see Miss Lake and Mr. Sills heading a wonderful cast in parts that suit them to perfection, will do well to go to the Lyceum Theatre tonight or Friday and see "Environment."

"Environment" is one of those fascinating crook stories which is peculiarly suited for picturization and Irving Cummings has made a photoplay that will entrance and charm picture fans the world over.

A "Gang" comedy and the Pathe Review are on the same program.

Huntly Gordon Quits as Broker to be an Actor

Huntly Gordon who plays the leading role in the Reginald Barker production of "Pleasure Mad," a Metro picture showing at the New Park tonight and Friday, is one of those actors who had to overcome a fear that acting wasn't "respectable" before he was able to go on the stage.

Backed by inherited prejudice he fought against the lure of the theatre for years, while he worked in the Bank of Montreal and later while he started out to be a stock broker. He was living up to the family tradition and felt quite respectable—but terribly unhappy. His heart was beating the footlights and his heart won.

"Respectability be damned!" he cried one day. "I'll be a stock actor, and not a stock broker."

TO TEST EYESIGHT OF CAR DRIVERS

THE DISPATCH has always maintained that the eyesight test used in the east should be in effect in Minnesota, so that car drivers with defective vision may not be contributory sources of automobile accidents.

The State Association of Optometrists considered eyesight testing at their recent convention in Minneapolis and aims to ask the legislature to pass a law establishing eyesight tests for automobile drivers.

You can readily imagine the difficulties besetting a near-sighted driver. In crowded city traffic, a foot or less of space is oftentimes the margin of safety allowed in passing a machine or bus. If the driver's distorted vision makes a half a foot look like two feet, overturned cars may be the result.

Steam railways make periodical tests of eyesight of engineers. An automobile, having no track to guide it and driven by a near-sighted man, is an engine carrying potential destruction. Whereas the engineer serves years of apprenticeship, any man may drive a car, whether inexperienced or suffering from defective vision.

It requires particularly good eyes to drive at night and face glaring headlights. The saddest spectacle to contemplate is a poor driver who will not admit or remedy his shortcomings and who by continuing to drive endangers the lives of people he carries or meets in his travels.

Automobile travel is growing continuously nevertheless it will be long before the saturation point in the sale of cars is reached. The highways and city streets will become ever more crowded and so it behooves the authorities to see that such driving is made safer. The law-abiding citizen, who observes every rule of the road, must be protected from the incompetent and defectively-visioned driver.

NUISANCE TAXES ENDED

AMERICAN women who recall the days when the purchase of a pair of stockings meant the paying of a 10 per cent "luxury" tax will probably recall that it was a Republican revenue measure that abolished the tax. It likewise abolished the tax on millinery, underwear, kimono, petticoats, waists and other wearing apparel, as well as on the ice cream soda, beauty cream and candy.

Today neither a reducing corset nor a box of rouge is considered a luxury. Today the shopper may indulge in her hot chocolate fudge sundae without paying the government for the privilege.

Besides these so-called nuisance taxes, the Republican revenue bill repealed all taxes on musical instruments, sporting goods and household furniture. It repealed all taxes on life, fire, accident, burglar and other forms of insurance. It repealed the tax on railroad tickets, thus saving the traveling public a quarter of a million dollars a day.

In brief, the Republican tax measure of 1921 lifted a burden from the pocketbooks of the American people which had been irritating them every day since the Democratic taxes had been enacted.

LOWER TAXES IS MAIN ISSUE

ONE of the main issues of this campaign is lower taxes and that applies to both national and state campaigns. The third party can hardly align itself in this regard if their government ownership stand is pressed.

Government ownership of railways takes away the large tax roll which the railways contribute for the support of the government. Should government ownership of such a utility prevail, the railway taxation must be made up in other ways by our citizenship.

There would be no gross earnings tax and Brainerd school district would lose the bit it is now gaining, forming a nucleus for our high school building fund.

Government ownership of railways has not been a money maker for Canada, which faces a huge deficit annually. The government running railroads might be as successful as it is running ships.

CONQUEST OF THE AIR

AMERICA has set out to conquer the air and is losing no time in this mission. Barely was the world-girdling flight history, when the Shenandoah set out Tuesday on a coast to coast flight.

Today the huge ZR-3, mighty dirigible, flies from Germany to America. With customary Teutonic prudence every effort is being made to insure a perfect voyage across the Atlantic. Motors are being given their final tests. America does not accept the dirigible until safe delivery is made at our front door, in other words, it's a C. O. D. job.

The special air mail of the postoffice is working satisfactorily and has now taken its place as an established institution. It's a great generation, this age. Wonders are perfected and are accepted as a matter of course. Castle building in the clouds may yet become a precarious occupation.

A FORTUNE AWAITS CLAIMANTS

A FORTUNE awaits Minnesota taxpayers. Two thousand checks are being held by Collector of Internal Revenue L. M. Willcuts until they are claimed by the proper parties.

These checks are for the 25 per cent income tax refund and over 42,000 refund checks were mailed to taxpayers at the address given on their income returns. Evidently they have moved, for over 2,000 checks were returned by the postoffice marked "gone."

Collector Willcuts said that $2,381,759.20 in cash refunds and credits on their income tax bills payable this year have been made to Minnesota taxpayers under the new revenue act signed by President Coolidge on June 4.

THERE have been many kinds of beauty contests, but the most novel one in Paris recently concerned itself with who had the prettiest limbs, or legs.

The fate of Europe, he indicated, many hang in the balance as the program of the labor government is inseparably bound to that of solution of the reparations and other postwar problems.

The king has consented to dissolution of parliament, the prime minister announced.

The labor government will be kept in power at least five weeks more. The House of Commons adjourned at 6 o'clock not to re-convene until a week or two weeks after the election.

At this time the complexion of the new house will determine the composition of the government.

Bible and Divorce

There are several passages in the Bible referring to divorce. It was sanctioned by the old Jewish law for certain reasons, as shown in Deuteronomy, chapter 24, first four verses. The Christian doctrine regarding divorce are shown in several passages of the New Testament, such as Matthew, chapter 5. The meaning of these sayings of Christ with regard to divorce is a matter of dispute, and it is difficult to determine whether or not they sanction divorce under any circumstances.

New Big Six

The New Duplex-Phaeton Body—it solves the closed-open car problem.

Genuine Balloon Tires.

New Galin-Lacquer Finish.

Spanish chrome tanned leather upholstery.

New ideas in ease of operation and control.

Vibrationless Legging forced-oiling system with new idea in oil supply. Full 75 h.p. block test.

Four-wheel Hydraulic Brakes—optional—totally unlike any other system on American cars.

THE new Studebaker Duplex models give the comfort and protection of a closed car—with all the advantages of an open car, plus the good looks, riding comfort, interior finish and fittings that no open car could ever give!

Yet the price is no higher than that of an open car.

The appeal of its simplicity, convenience and durability is instant and decisive—with a touch of the hand you draw down the four roller enclosures and in thirty seconds your airy open car is a snug, comfortable enclosed car. With equal ease the enclosing sides can be rolled up into the roof and you have an open car again.

The Duplex body is especially built for the roller side enclosures, the roof is framed and shaped in steel—permanently beautiful and steel-strong to support the rollers, and the upper part of the Duplex is integral with the lower part. It is a unit body which harmonizes perfectly in beauty and function.

There is no other body like it on any other car at any price—because it is exclusively a Studebaker creation, made only by Studebaker. You can buy the Duplex from no other maker.

The new Duplex is available for each of the three new Studebaker chassis—the new STANDARD SIX, the SPECIAL SIX and the BIG SIX.

And these three new chassis are the evolution of the famous chassis of the five preceding years. Each year they have been improved and refined.

But this year the new models are climaxed with every tested and proved betterment that experience and science have thus far developed.

They are paramount exemplars of modern automobile design.

Simply stated, this means that money cannot buy more modernly perfect automobiles than the new Studebakers—we have the Duplex models ready for your inspection. Come in today!

TO TEST EYESIGHT OF CAR DRIVERS

THE DISPATCH has always maintained that the eyesight test used in the east should be in effect in Minnesota, so that car drivers with defective vision may not be contributory sources of automobile accidents.

The State Association of Optometrists considered eyesight testing at their recent convention in Minneapolis and aims to ask the legislature to pass a law establishing eyesight tests for automobile drivers.

You can readily imagine the difficulties besetting a near-sighted driver. In crowded city traffic, a foot or less of space is oftentimes the margin of safety allowed in passing a machine or bus. If the driver's distorted vision makes a half a foot look like two feet, overturned cars may be the result.

Steam railways make periodical tests of eyesight of engineers. An automobile, having no track to guide it and driven by a near-sighted man, is an engine carrying potential destruction. Whereas the engineer serves years of apprenticeship, any man may drive a car, whether inexperienced or suffering from defective vision.

It requires particularly good eyes to drive at night and face glaring headlights. The saddest spectacle to contemplate is a poor driver who will not admit or remedy his shortcomings and who by continuing to drive endangers the lives of people he carries or meets in his travels.

Automobile travel is growing continuously nevertheless it will be long before the saturation point in the sale of cars is reached. The highways and city streets will become ever more crowded and so it behooves the authorities to see that such driving is made safer. The law-abiding citizen, who observes every rule of the road, must be protected from the incompetent and defectively-visioned driver.

NUISANCE TAXES ENDED

AMERICAN women who recall the days when the purchase of a pair of stockings meant the paying of a 10 per cent "luxury" tax will probably recall that it was a Republican revenue measure that abolished the tax. It likewise abolished the tax on millinery, underwear, kimonos, petticoats, waists and other wearing apparel, as well as on the ice cream soda, beauty cream and candy.

Today neither a reducing corset nor a box of rouge is considered a luxury. Today the shopper may indulge in her hot chocolate fudge sundae without paying the government for the privilege.

Besides these so-called nuisance taxes, the Republican revenue bill repealed all taxes on musical instruments, sporting goods and household furniture. It repealed all taxes on life, fire, accident, burglar and other forms of insurance. It repealed the tax on railroad tickets, thus saving the traveling public a quarter of a million dollars a day.

In brief, the Republican tax measure of 1921 lifted a burden from the pocketbooks of the American people which had been irritating them every day since the Democratic taxes had been enacted.

LOWER TAXES IS MAIN ISSUE

ONE of the main issues of this campaign is lower taxes and that applies to both national and state campaigns. The third party can hardly align itself in this regard if their government ownership stand is pressed.

Government ownership of railways takes away the large tax roll which the railways contribute for the support of the government. Should government ownership of such a utility prevail, the railway taxation must be made up in other ways by our citizenship.

There would be no gross earnings tax and Brainerd school district would lose the bit it is now gaining, forming a nucleus for our high school building fund.

Government ownership of railways has not been a money maker for Canada, which faces a huge deficit annually. The government running railroads might be as successful as it is running ships.

CONQUEST OF THE AIR

AMERICA has set out to conquer the air and is losing no time in this mission. Barely was the world-girdling flight history, when the Shenandoah set out Tuesday on a coast to coast flight.

Today the huge ZR-3, mighty dirigible, flies from Germany to America. With customary Teutonic prudence every effort is being made to insure a perfect voyage across the Atlantic. Motors are being given their final tests. America does not accept the dirigible until safe delivery is made at our front door, in other words, it's a C. O. D. job.

The special air mail of the postoffice is working satisfactorily and has now taken its place as an established institution. It's a great generation, this age. Wonders are perfected and are accepted as a matter of course. Castle building in the clouds may yet become a precarious occupation.

A FORTUNE AWAITS CLAIMANTS

A FORTUNE awaits Minnesota taxpayers. Two thousand checks are being held by Collector of Internal Revenue L. M. Willcuts until they are claimed by the proper parties.

These checks are for the 25 per cent income tax refund and over 42,000 refund checks were mailed to taxpayers at the address given on their income returns. Evidently they have moved, for over 2,000 checks were returned by the postoffice marked "gone."

Collector Willcuts said that $2,381,759.20 in cash refunds and credits on their income tax bills payable this year have been made to Minnesota taxpayers under the new revenue act signed by President Coolidge on June 4.

THERE have been many kinds of beauty contests, but the most novel one in Paris recently concerned itself with who had the prettiest limbs, or legs.

to speak, announcing the date of the general election.

The fate of Europe, he indicated, many hang in the balance as the program of the labor government is inseparably bound to that of solution of the reparations and other postwar problems.

The king has consented to dissolution of parliament, the prime minister announced.

The labor government will be kept in power at least five weeks more. The House of Commons adjourned at 6 o'clock not to re-convene until a week or two weeks after the election.

At this time the complexion of the new house will determine the composition of the government.

Bible and Divorce

There are several passages in the Bible referring to divorce. It was sanctioned by the old Jewish law for certain reasons, as shown in Deuteronomy, chapter 24, first four verses. The Christian doctrine regarding divorce are shown in several passages of the New Testament, such as Matthew, chapter 5. The meaning of these sayings of Christ with regard to divorce is a matter of dispute, and it is difficult to determine whether or not they sanction divorce under any circumstances.

"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vitaphone picture with J. Warren Kerrigan in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

Within an hour, the water-casks at last replenished and stowed aboard, the Arabella and the Elizabeth put to sea upon that angry chase.

"What now, Peter?" cried the young Jeremy Pitt. "Lord, man what is there here to fret you? Surely 'tisn't the thought of Rivalro!"

"No," said Blood thickly. And for once he was communicative. It may well be that he must vent the thing that oppressed him or be driven mad by it. And Pitt, after all, was his friend and loved him, and, so, a proper man for confidences. "But if she knew! If she knew! Oh God! I had thought to have done with piracy; thought to have done with it for ever. Yet here have I been committed by this scoundrel to the worst piracy that ever I was guilty of. Think of Cartagena! Think of the hell those devils will be making of it now! And I must have that on my soul!"

Setting a course for Hispaniola, since they judged that thither must Rivalro go to refit before attempting to cross to France, the Arabella and the Elizabeth ploughed briskly northward with a moderately favourable wind for two days and nights without ever catching a glimpse of their quarry. The third dawn brought with it a haze which circumscribed their range of vision to something between two and three miles, and deepened their growing vexation and their apprehension that M. de Rivalro might escape them altogether.

They had Jamaica on their larboard beam some thirty miles to westward, and, indeed, away to the northwest, faintly visible as a bank of clouds, appeared the great ridge of the Blue Mountains whose peaks were thrust into the clear upper air above the low-lying haze. The wind was westerly, and it bore to their ears a booming sound which in less experienced ears might have passed for the breaking of surf upon a lee shore.

"Guns off Port Royal . . . that Blood upon the quarter-deck, Blood nooded, listening.

"Ten miles away, perhaps fifteen—somewhere off Port Royal, I should judge," Pitt added. Then he looked at his captain. "Does it concern us?" he asked.

"Guns off Port Royal . . . that should argue Colonel Bishop at work. I think it may concern us. Anyway, we'll stand in to investigate."

Close-hauled they tacked aweath-er, guided by the sound of combat, for an hour, perhaps. Then, as, telescope to his eye, Blood raked the haze, the guns abruptly ceased. They held to their course, nevertheless, with all hands on deck, eagerly, anxiously scanning the sea ahead. And presently an object loomed into view, which soon defined itself for a great ship on fire. As the Arabella with the Elizabeth following closely raced nearer on their north-westerly tack, the outlines of the blazing vessel grew clearer.

"An English ship!" he cried.

He scanned the seas for the conqueror in the battle of which this grim evidence was added to that of the sounds they had heard, and then at last, as they drew closer to the doomed vessel, they made out the shadowy outlines of three tall ships, some three or four miles away, standing in toward Port Royal. Pitt, who through the telescope was examining the receding squadron, observed things apparent only to the eye of the trained mariner, and made the incredible announcement that the largest of these three vessels was Rivalro's Victorieuse. They took in sail and hove to as they came up with the drifting boats, laden to capacity with survivors.

CHAPTER XXVI
THE SERVICE OF KING
WILLIAM

One of the boats bumped alongside the Arabella, and up the entrance ladder came first a slight, spruce little gentleman in a coat of mulberry satin laced with gold, whose wizened, yellow, rather peevish face was framed in a heavy black periwig. His modish and costly apparel had nowise suffered by the adventure through which he had passed, and he carried himself with the easy assurance of a man of rank. He was closely followed by one who in every particular, save that of age, was the physical opposite, corpulent in a brawny, vigorous way, with a full, round, weather-beaten face whose mouth was humorous and whose eyes were blue and twinkling.

As the little man stepped from the ladder into the waist, whither Captain Blood had gone to receive him, his sharp, ferrety dark eyes swept the uncouth ranks of the assembled crew of the Arabella.

"And where the devil may I be now?" he demanded irritably. "Are you English, or what the devil are you?"

"Myself, I have the honour to be Irish, sir. My name is Blood—Captain Peter Blood, and this is my ship the Arabella, all very much at your service."

"Blood!" shrieked the little man. "O 'Sblood! A pirate!" He swung to the Colossus who followed him—"A damned pirate, van der Kuylen. Rend my vitals, but we're come from Seylla to Charybdis."

"So?" said the other gutturally, and again "So?" Then the humour of it took him, and he yielded to it.

"Damme! What's to laugh at, you porpoise?" spluttered mulberry-coat. "A fine tale this'll make at home! Admiral van der Kuylen first loses his fleet in the night, then has his flagship fired under him by a French squadron, and ends all by being captured by a pirate. I'm glad you find it matter for laughter. Since for my sins I happen to be with you, I'm damned if I do."

"There's a misapprehension, if I may make so bold as to point it out," put in Blood quietly. "You are not captured, gentlemen; you are rescued. When you realize it, perhaps it will occur to you to acknowledge the hospitality I am offering you. It may be poor, but it is the best at my disposal."

"Damme! Do you permit yourself to be ironical?" he disapproved him. "I am Lord Willoughby, King William's Governor-General of the West Indies, and this is Admiral van der Kuylen, commander of His Majesty's West Indian fleet, at present mislaid somewhere in this damned Caribbean Sea."

"King William?" quoth Blood. "And who may be King William, and of what may he be King?"

"I am alluding to His Majesty King William III—William of Orange—who, with Queen Mary, has been ruling England for two months and more."

"D'ye mean, sir that they've roused themselves at home, and kicked out that scoundrel James and his gang of ruffians?"

"Shif! Hadn't you heard? Where the devil have you been at all?"

Briefly he gave an account. After that, with renewed assurances that aboard his ship they should be hon-ourably entreated, Captain Blood led the Governor-General and the Admiral to his cabin, what time the work of rescue went on.

"Go home, if you will," said his lordship when comfortable. Here is a great chance for you, since you declare yourself sick of piracy. Should you choose to serve King William out here during this war, your knowledge of the West Indies should render you a very valuable servant to His Majesty's Government, which you would not find ungrateful. You should consider it. Damme, sir, I repeat: it is a great chance you are given."

Pitt came in to report that the work of rescue was at an end, and the men picked up—some forty-five in all—safe aboard the two buccaneer ships. He asked for orders. Blood rose.

"I am negligent of your lordship's concerns in my consideration of my own. You'll be wishing me to land you at Port Royal."

"At Port Royal?" The little man squirmed wrathfully on his seat. Wrathfully and at length he informed Blood that they had put into Port Royal last evening to find its Deputy-Governor absent. "He had gone on some wildgoose chase to Tortuga after buccaneers, taking the whole of the fleet with him."

"Is Rivalro aware of this?" Blood cried sharply.

It was the Dutch Admiral who answered him. "Would he go dere if he were not? M. de Rivalro he take some of our men prisoners. Berhabs dey dell him. Berhabs he make dem tell. Id is a great obboordunide." (Continued in our next issue.)

Chesterfield Sales Gain

One of the outstanding "successes" of recent years is the astounding manner in which Chesterfield cigarettes are running away from the field in popularity—a fact which is not only self-evident from an observation of smokers' tastes but which is backed up by those figures which never lie—sales.

Sometime ago, the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company, manufacturers of this popular brand, compiled statistics showing conclusively that smokers were switching from other brands to Chesterfield at the rate of over 1000 a day—a rate which assured that 1924 sales would far exceed all previous records.

Since that time, the records show that there are apparently no signs of abatement to the rapid pace which this popular brand is traveling, and in fact an actual compilation of statistics, based on the revenue figures of the United States Government, proves that of the total increase in cigarette sales this year, Chesterfield has 61 per cent—almost double the increase of all other brands combined.

This fact is given wide publicity in a striking big advertisement published today by Liggett & Myers, which company naturally takes a not unparadiseable pride in the new record hung up by its star performer.

'NORTHWESTERN'

Motors Can't Talk

They patiently take what they are fed and do their best on it. They can't tell you, "This gas eats my cylinder walls!" or "This gas covers my 'innards' with carbon!" You have to use your judgment. But patient as they are, motors will finally tell you in no uncertain tones if they have been abused. And then the damage has been done! If your motor could speak it would say, "Northwestern Gasoline is good for me. I thrive on it. Feed it to me and I'll repay you by my best performance." We know that's what it would say because Northwestern "better gasoline" is motor tested. Try it, today, and be convinced.

TAX LEVY MADE FOR CITY SCHOOLS

Brainerd School Board Places Same at 4 1/8 Mills, Unanimously Adopted

EVENING SCHOOL RESUMED

Will Benefit Aliens Wishing to Become Citizens at November and May Terms of Court

The tax levy for the Brainerd school district for the ensuing year was placed at 4 1/8 mills, at the regular meeting of the board of education on Monday night. Of this amount, 40 1/2 mills is devoted to the maintenance of schools, in the resolution offered by the finance committee and unanimously adopted by the board. The balance of the total levy, five-eighths of a mill, is for interest on bonds other than state bonds. This resolution was offered by Hagberg and Stanley.

Superintendent W. C. Cobb submitted his report on the condition of the book room for the month of September, which was received and placed on file. Superintendent Cobb further submitted a report on the condition of the Brainerd schools at the close of the first month's work. This report is given in detail in another column of the Dispatch.

Following the suggestion made in the school report that old school books be rebound, the superintendent and secretary were authorized by motion to have such books rebound as in their judgment are worth binding.

The report recommended that evening school be resumed again this year for the benefit of aliens wishing to become United States citizens. On motion the superintendent was authorized to start two evening classes at once. One for advanced students who may be able to finish their course in time to try for citizenship at the November term of the district court, the other for beginners who wish to become citizens in the class for naturalization at the May term of the district court.

The building committee submitted its report on its activities in regard to contracts for repairs and rebuilding and for giving sewerage service to the Riverside building in West Brainerd.

On motion the building committee was authorized to employ the city engineer to survey the proposed sewer line from the Riverside school to the river, and to assist in preparing plans and specifications for this work. The secretary reported that permission had been secured from Dr. E. F. Jamieson, the owner of lots 5 and 6 of Block 39, to cross this property with the sewer. At authorized at a previous meeting of the board, the building committee will call for bids on this work, which will be done when the plans and specifications are completed and the survey made. The board will open these bids at a special session to be called by the building committee.

The secretary reported having sold the brick veneered house on Pine street on the Lincoln school grounds, which for years was used as janitor's quarters, and also the sale of a shed and fence. The house was sold for $50, the shed and fence for $30. On motion the action of the secretary was ratified.

The building committee, on motion was directed to take down and store the iron fence on the north side of the Washington school grounds. The greater part of this fence has been broken down.

The teachers committee reported that it had engaged the following instructors since the last board meeting: Miss Lillian Wancow, cooking teacher in the high school, Miss Myrtle Hintze and Miss Edna Anderson for grade school work. The committee's report was received and its action ratified. The teachers were employed at the salaries indicated in the report. The resignation of Miss Esther Lemon, grade teacher in the Lowell school, was accepted. Miss Lemon was compelled to give up her work on account of ill health.

Treasurer Morrison brought up the matter of fire prevention week, and stated that while all possible precautions are being taken at the Washington building, which is in a very crowded condition, it is believed that a few more fire extinguishers should be added to the equipment. On motion the committee was authorized to purchase as many as it deems necessary and to take any other precautions against fire that may present themselves.

Elmer L. Dahl, chairman of the committee on health and sanitation, submitted a report of the work of the city and school nurse for the month of September, together with a written report of the committee and the nurse, which was received and placed on file. It was mentioned that the committee, in conjunction with the nurse, is making arrangements for an examination of school children for diseases of the eyes and throat, within the next six weeks.

On motion the board is to assist the Whittier school in getting the balance of the required subscriptions to the Health Journal, in order that the school may get the premium of a health scales, and that subscriptions to this magazine are to be taken, not to exceed fifteen, to be distributed among the various school buildings of the city exclusive of the Whittier.

High School Site

City Attorney D. H. Fullerton explained to the board a resolution on a new high school site, which resolution had been prepared by him, after which it was adopted, all voting aye with the exception of F. M. Hagberg, who was excused for moving for the reason that he is a property owner in one of the proposed sites.

In the discussion that followed, it was deemed advisable to have some special legislation passed at the coming session of the state legislature in January, which will clear up the laws under which this school district operates, and the city attorney was directed to prepare and draft a suitable measure to be presented to the legislature for enactment. The city attorney was empowered to solicit the services of Attorney Ambrose Tighe, one of the leading bond attorneys in the state, to assist in preparing the measures, which are to be submitted to the board in plenty of time for consideration and discussion before the legislature convenes.

Acting on an opinion expressed by the city attorney, the board is to compensate two boys of the Harrison building for assisting a crippled boy to and from school and during school hours about the building.

Upon the explanation of the superintendent, the secretary and superintendent were authorized to purchase a typewriter for the normal training department.

The secretary reported that the new contract between the United States Veterans Bureau and the board had been received, duly signed by the central office of the bureau at Washington, D. C. This contract was authorized at a previous meeting of the board and is to be signed by the board officials. It covers the period from July 1st, 1924 to June 30th, 1925. The Veterans Bureau work in the Brainerd district has for the past year been under the supervision of the board of education.

Contractor Vernon White was, upon motion, allowed $500 on his contract.

A large grist of bills was allowed and the board adjourned at the hour of midnight. All members were present with the exception of Mrs. A. H. Anderson and Fred Drexler.

FIRE AT JOHN ETHEN HOME

Gutted Building And Destroyed Most of Contents This Morning

Fire at the home of John Ethen, near Boom lake gutted the building, and destroyed most of the contents on Thursday morning. It is thought that the flames may have started from the electric wiring.

Some of the wearing apparel of the family's, and a small amount of furniture was saved. The fire department found it necessary to chop a large hole in the roof of the house to bring the flames under control. The building is said to belong to the Brainerd State Bank. No insurance was carried on the household goods.

Mr. Ethen states that he will retain his present telephone number, and that the telephone will be installed in the home of Raymond Northway, near the former Ethen residence.

MORE RELIGION IN OUR BUSINESS

Dr. Francis B. Short Makes an Eloquent Plea at Chamber of Commerce

GOLDEN RULE IMPORTANT

Its Observance Would Create Better Feeling Between Capital and Labor

More religion in business would mean better business, contended Dr. Francis B. Short, who gave an eloquent and forceful address before the Chamber of Commerce at its regular meeting on Wednesday night.

"The thing that business men can't seem to see, is that if they put religion in business, apply the precepts of the Golden Rule to their dealings, and get away from the selfishness and petty jealousies that are harbored, there would be such an era of prosperity and good feeling as this world has never known before," continued Dr. Short.

The speaker stated that the average business man in the average sized town had not been able to realize this big truth, but that the large merchandising establishments of this country have built up an enormous business by following the precepts of the Golden Rule, and treat the public in an open, fair and honest manner.

The great problems of capital and labor were ably discussed by Dr. Short, who claims that labor does not so much desire an increase in wages as it does to receive the human recognition to which it is entitled. Let the men with capital recognize that they are stewards of that capital, said the speaker, and let labor recognize that it has a duty to perform and a work to discharge in a competent and worthy manner.

There has never been a strike in the banking business, continued Dr. Short, in speaking of the average bank, because the officials and the employees know each other and a big family spirit is thus built up. A fair spirit of recognition is observed and human nature seems to demand such recognition.

"Those who help to produce profits would have a share in those profits," said the speaker, who maintains that this policy is just good, sound business economics, and the employer who follows such a policy will have the least labor trouble and will prosper the most.

Dr. Short plead for more practical religion in business, in politics and in religion, stating that the religious man in any community is the one who does most to cheer the despondent and to give courage to the struggling. The church with which one may be affiliated does not matter as much as the manner in which the religion is injected into the business of everyday life. He asked that business men get away from the narrow-minded prejudices which are so easily built up against each other in a community, and in its place substitute righteousness and a friendly feeling, which will tend to build up a community or a business, instead of tearing it down.

The speaker injected much humor into his address, punctuating his serious thoughts with humorous thrusts which tended to make his points the stronger. Many ladies were in attendance at the meeting, as well as a good representation of the city's clergy, the latter being a compliment to Dr. Short who for over thirty years was a minister.

The doctor was the honor guest at the weekly luncheon of the local Lions club previous to the Chamber meeting, and gave an exceptionally fine address on community service before that organization. The clergy of the city and all employees of the J. C. Penney Company were guests of Lion R. E. Wyett, manager of the Penney store.

The Chamber of Commerce meeting was prefaced with a business men's dinner, served by the house and social committee, with Al Beaver as caterer. The meal was one of the finest that has been served at the Chamber this season. A very representative number of business men were in attendance.

Henry I. Cohen opened the meeting, which followed the dinner, with a comprehensive address appropriate to Fire Prevention Week, now being nationally observed. He mentioned the fact that the Chicago fire in 1871 and similar conflagrations was the reason for the establishment of the so-called Fire Prevention League. Every state has a fire prevention association and the members endeavor to make pleas and talks before various audiences for purposes of calling attention to the vital necessity of looking after property, cleaning it up and taking care of careful building construction.

One of the greatest causes of fire, according to authorities, said Mr. Cohen, is the national inclination of the American people to take things easy, and not being as careful as they might be.

A booklet is issued by the conservation and Fire Prevention Association, which contains 244 recommendations to protect life, avoid injury, and protect property, which if followed, would stop a great many avoidable fires, which annually take a big toll of property and life.

The speaker called attention to the per capita loss in this country by fire, amounting to $4.50 to each man, woman and child annually, as against the per capita of $1 in Europe. In 1923 the loss by fire amounted to five hundred million dollars in the United States, and with all other connecting conditions, the cost of fighting fires, etc., brought this total up to the billion dollar mark.

Quoting from an address made by an expert, Mr. Cohen exhibited a table of estimates showing that all fire insurance companies doing business in Minnesota in 1923 received in fire insurance premiums approximately 12 million dollars. Of this amount the companies paid back to the public in losses about eight million dollars. Thoughtless persons consider that the balance of four million dollars is a profit to the companies, but Mr. Cohen showed that the seven thousand insurance agents in the state received in commissions, $2,500,000, and that the taxes and fees paid to the state by the insurance companies, their overhead for necessary inspection and maintenance of their home offices consumed the balance, with the remarkable result that it cost the companies one million dollars more in 1923 to do business in Minnesota more than they received.

Celebrating Our 20th Birthday

One of the early services given by our store was the giving of embroidery lessons to classes. We first began with adults and later the children. At that time much elaborate work was done with silk. Pillows were embroidered which required many skeins of silk.

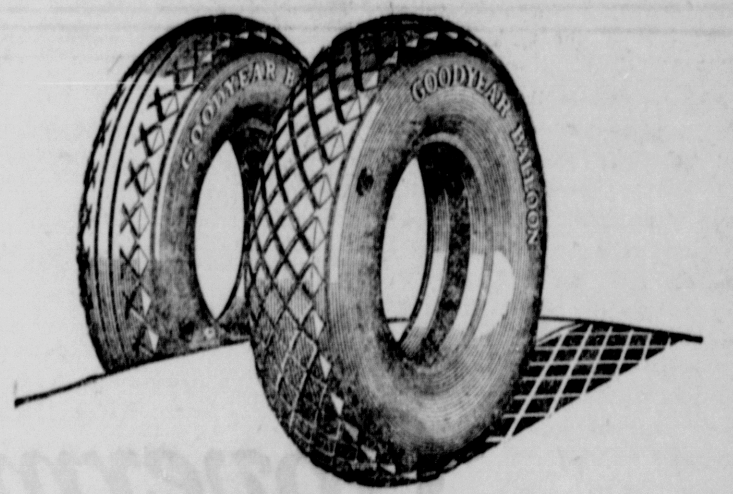

The picture shows one of these classes. This was not one of the 20 years ago classes but one of the much later classes as will be recognized by those who are in the picture, for we continued these classes for a number of years. Many young women will remember the time when they took embroidery lessons in our store.

If any of those who embroidered pillows years ago still have any of those pillows or other pieces we shall be pleased to have them to make a display next week.

MORE RELIGION

Dr. Francis B. Short Makes an eloquent Plea at Chamber of Commerce

GOLDEN RULE IMPORTANT

Its Observance Would Create Better Feeling Between Capital and Labor

More religion in business would mean better business, contended Dr. Francis B. Short, who gave an eloquent and forceful address before the Chamber of Commerce at its regular meeting on Wednesday night.

"The thing that business men can't seem to see, is that if they put religion in business, apply the precepts of the Golden Rule to their dealings, and get away from the selfishness and petty jealousies that are harbored, there would be such an era of prosperity and good feeling as this world has never known before," continued Dr. Short.

The speaker stated that the average business man in the average sized town has not been able to realize this big truth, but that the large merchandising establishments of this country have built up an enormous business by following the precepts of the Golden Rule, and treat the public in an open, fair and honest manner.

The great problems of capital and labor were ably discussed by Dr. Short, who claims that labor does not so much desire an increase in wages as it does to receive the human recognition to which it is entitled. Let the men with capital recognize that they are stewards of that capital, said the speaker, and let labor recognize that it has a duty to perform and a work to discharge in a competent and worthy manner.

There has never been a strike in the banking business, continued Dr. Short, in speaking of the average bank, because the officials and the employees know each other and a big family spirit is thus built up. A fair spirit of recognition is observed and human nature seems to demand such recognition.

"Those who help to produce profits would have a share in those profits," said the speaker, who maintains that this policy is just good, sound business economics, and the employer who follows such a policy will have the least labor trouble and will prosper the most.

Dr. Short pleaded for more practical religion in business, in politics and in religion, stating that the religious man in any community is the one who does most to cheer the despondent and to give courage to the struggling. The church with which one may be affiliated does not matter as much as the manner in which the religion is injected into the business of everyday life. He asked that business men get away from the narrow-minded prejudices which are so easily built up against each other in a community, and in its place substitute righteousness and a friendly feeling, which will tend to build up a community or a business, instead of tearing it down.

The speaker injected much humor into his address, punctuating his serious thoughts with humorous thrusts which tended to make his points the stronger. Many ladies were in attendance at the meeting, as well as a good representation of the city's clergy, the latter being a compliment to Dr. Short who for over thirty years was a minister.

The doctor was the honor guest

at the weekly luncheon of the local Lions club previous to the Chamber meeting, and gave an exceptionally fine address on community service before that organization. The clergy of the city and all employees of the J. C. Penney Company were guests of Lion R. E. Wyatt, manager of the Penney store.

The Chamber of Commerce meeting was prefaced with a business men's dinner, served by the house and social committee, with Al Beaver as caterer. The meal was one of the finest that has been served at the Chamber this season. A very representative number of business men were in attendance.

Henry I. Cohen opened the meeting, which followed the dinner, with a comprehensive address appropriate to Fire Prevention Week, now being nationally observed. He mentioned the fact that the Chicago fire in 1871 and similar conflagrations was the reason for the establishment of the so-called Fire Prevention League. Every state has a fire prevention association and the members endeavor to make pleas and talks before various audiences for purposes of calling attention to the vital necessity of looking after property, cleaning it up and taking care of careful building construction.

One of the greatest causes of fire, according to authorities, said Mr. Cohen, is the national inclination of the American people to take things easy, and not being as careful as they might be.

A booklet is issued by the conservation and Fire Prevention Association, which contains 244 recommendations to protect life, avoid injury, and protect property, which if followed, would stop a great many avoidable fires, which annually take a big toll of property and life.

The speaker called attention to the per capita loss in this country by fire, amounting to $4.50 to each man, woman and child annually, as against the per capita of $1 in Europe. In 1923 the loss by fire amounted to five hundred million dollars in the United States, and with all other connecting conditions, the cost of fighting fires, etc., brought this total up to the billion dollar mark.

Quoting from an address made by an expert, Mr. Cohen exhibited a table of estimates showing that all fire insurance companies doing business in Minnesota in 1923 received in fire insurance premiums approximately 12 million dollars. Of this amount the companies paid back to the public in losses about eight million dollars. Thoughtless persons consider that the balance of four million dollars is a profit to the companies, but Mr. Cohen showed that the seven thousand insurance agents in the state received in commissions, $2,500,000, and that the taxes and fees paid to the state by the insurance companies, their overhead for necessary inspection and maintenance of their home offices consumed the balance, with the remarkable result that it cost the companies one million dollars more in 1923 to do business in Minnesota more than they received.

Birthday Party

Murray Henderson, 503 Second Avenue Northeast was pleasantly surprised last night by a number of friends. The evening was spent in games and music, and at midnight a delicious lunch was served. Mr. Henderson was presented with many useful gifts.

Relief Corps

The Relief Corps will meet tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock at the I. O. O. F. hall. There will be special business brought up, and every member is urged to be present.

Celebrating Our 20th Birthday

One of the early services given by our store was the giving of embroidery lessons to classes. We first began with adults and later the children. At that time much elaborate work was done with silk. Pillows were embroidered which required many skeins of silk.

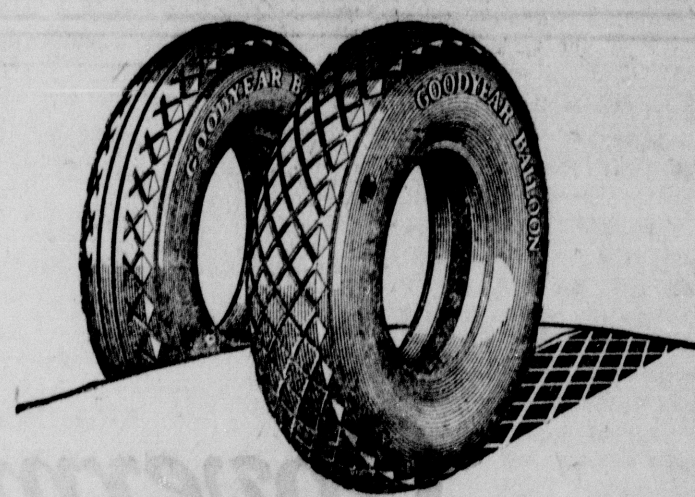

The picture shows one of these classes. This was not one of the 20 years ago classes but one of the much later classes as will be recognized by those who are in the picture, for we continued these classes for a number of years. Many young women will remember the time when they took embroidery lessons in our store.

If any of those who embroidered pillows years ago still have any of those pillows or other pieces we shall be pleased to have them to make a display next week.

EPINARD WILL HAVE ANOTHER CHANCE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 9.—When the New York Giants won the National League pennant some very smart baseball men remarked: "Well, the Giants finished first, but the Pirates had the best team in the league."

When Battling Siki knocked out Georges Carpentier, the French consoled themselves with the thought that the better fighter lost on bad luck. For years before Bobby Jones won the amateur golf championship, title holders were official champions, but golf bugs held consistently to the claim that young Bobby was the best of all the amateurs.

Another case of the kind can be applied to Epinar, the French thoroughbred, who is to seek vindication Saturday in the third of the big international special races at Latonia.

Epinar was beaten in his first race at Belmont Park over the six-furlong distance. He finished second behind Wise Counsellor, with Ladkin, the August Belmont three-year-old, third.

Wise Counsellor got the purse, but the glory all went to the French colt. He was excused for having been given a bad ride by Everett Haynes, the former American jockey, who came back from France to ride Pierre Wertheimer's colt in his three big races. Railbirds said that Haynes had been outsmarted by Frank Geogh, another American jockey, just back from France. Form followers said that the distance was not long enough for Epinar, and that he had been made the victim of bad racing luck in getting a poor start and in being bumped and shut off by Zev, the international champion of 1923.

When the time came for the second special at Aqueduct over the mile distance, Epinar was figured as the favorite, but he again finished second, with Ladkin first and Wise Counsellor, the winner of the first race, behind Epinar.

Again the purse went to the winner and the glory to the loser. Haynes was criticized severely. Competent turf writers said the French colt had shown convincingly that he was the best horse of the day, and that it was a shame to have his record spoiled by the inferior riding of his jockey. They suggested openly to the colt's owner that he would have to get another jockey if he wanted to win the third race.

O'Connell and Dolan

Denied Reinstatement

New York, Oct. 9.—Jimmy O'Connell and "Cozy" Dolan expelled members of the New York Giants, were denied re-instatement after another hearing before Commissioner Landis last night.

The commissioner said that O'Connell and Dolan had asked him for another interview and that it had been granted. He did not make public any of the details of the conference but he said that the status of

ACUTE DIGESTION WITH DILATED STOMACH, IMMEDIATE CAUSE OF DEATH

(By United Press)

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 9.—Jake Daubert, captain of the Cincinnati Reds and veteran first baseman, died in a hospital here today at 4 a. m.

Daubert underwent an operation for appendicitis and drainage of the gall bladder last week.

Yesterday his condition became critical and physicians held out little hope for his recovery.

Acute indigestion resulting in a dilated stomach was the immediate cause of his death. His run down condition, aggravated by stomach trouble, made it impossible for Daubert to rally from the shock of the operation.

Jake's full name was Jacob Ellsworth Daubert. He was 40 years old, and his home was at Schuylkill Haven, Pa.

Mrs. Daubert and their 10-year-old son George were at Daubert's bedside when he died. A daughter, Mrs. Samuel Becker and Jake's older brother, George Daubert, arrived from Pennsylvania several hours too late to be with the veteran baseball player before he died.

the players had not been changed.

Landis insisted that the investigation was not closed and said that he was still "open-minded" about the case.

Government figures show:

Chesterfield has 61% of the total increase in cigarette sales this year

Such popularity must be deserved!
